Weekly Bulletin

October 11, 2019

KEY MONETARY AND FINANCIAL INDICATORS

Exchange Rate

The Kenya Shilling remained stable against major international and regional currencies during the week ending October 9. It exchanged at KSh 103.78 per US Dollar on October 9 compared to 103.86 on October 3 (Table 1).

Foreign Exchange Reserves

The Central Bank of Kenya (CBK) usable foreign exchange reserves remained adequate at USD 9,000 million (5.62 months of import cover) on October 9. This meets the CBK's statutory requirement to endeavour to maintain at least 4 months of import cover, and the EAC region's convergence criteria of 4.5 months of import cover (Table 2).

Money Market

The money market remained liquid during the week ending October 9, supported by Government payments and net redemption of government securities. Open market operations remained active during the week. Commercial banks' excess reserves stood at KSh 11.5 billion in relation to the monthly 5.25 percent cash reserves requirement (CRR). The average interbank rate decreased to 7.11 percent on October 9 from 7.35 percent on October 3. The average number of interbank deals per day increased to 17 from 14 in the previous week, while the value traded declined to KSh 5.7 billion compared to KSh 6.2 billion in the previous week (Table 3).

Government Securities Market

The Treasury bills auctions of October 9 received bids totalling KSh 23.6 billion against an advertised amount of KSh 24.0 billion, representing a performance of 98.3 percent. Interest rates on the 91-day and 364-day Treasury bills declined, while that of the 182-day Treasury bills increased marginally (Table 4).

Equity Market

All leading indicators at the Nairobi Securities Exchange (NSE) declined during the week ending October 9, mainly due to the short trading week. The NASI, NSE 25 and NSE20 share price indices declined by 0.4 percent, 0.9 percent, 0.5 percent, respectively. The market capitalization, shares traded and equity turnover also declined by 0.2 percent, 52.2 percent and 44.8 percent, respectively (Table 6).

Bond Market

The value of bonds traded in the domestic secondary market declined by 76.0 percent during the week ending October 9. In the international market, yields on Kenya's 7-year, 10-year (2024), 10-year (2028), 12-year and 30-year Eurobonds declined by 2.9, 6.0, 7.9, 11.1 and 11.3 basis points respectively, during the week. The yields on 10-year Eurobonds for Angola and Ghana also declined earlier in the week but increased towards the end of the week (Chart 2).

Global Trends

Uncertainties in the global financial markets remained during the week despite trade talks between the US and China. The US plans to hike duties on at least USD 250 billion in Chinese goods to 30 percent from 25 percent after the October 15, deadline. The US also imposed restrictions on visa issuance to certain Chinese officials and blacklisted some Chinese entities. Furthermore, UK Brexit negotiations with the EU appeared headed for a stalemate as chances of no-deal Brexit become more apparent.

International oil prices were relatively stable during the week. The Murban oil price increased marginally from USD 59.05 per barrel on October 3 to USD 59.75 per barrel on October 10.
