Weekly Statistical Bulletin

 Key Monetary and Financial Indicators
Interbank Market

Trading in the interbank market slowed during the week ending May 16, 2018 largely due to reduced pressure for liquidity by banks following the conclusion of monthly CRR cycle on May 14, 2018. The volumes traded decreased to an average of KSh 12.7 billion from KSh 15.5 billion in the previous week and the number of deals also decreased to an average of 26 compared to an average of 33 the previous week. As a result of lower participation especially by the small banks, the weighted average interbank rate eased to 4.38 percent from 4.96 percent the previous week (Table 1).

Exchange Rate

The Kenya Shilling remained steady during the week ending May 17, 2018. It strengthened against the Pound Sterling, the Euro and the Japanese Yen but weakened marginally against the US Dollar. The slight weakening of the Kenya Shilling against the US Dollar was occasioned by increased Dollar demand from corporates seeking to pay foreign investor dividends. In the EAC, the Kenya Shilling strengthened against the Uganda Shilling and the Burundi Franc, was unchanged against the Tanzania Shilling but depreciated against the Rwanda Franc

Equity Market

Trading activity in the equities market declined during the week ending May 17, 2018, with total shares traded falling by 51.21 percent and equity turnover dropping by 32.40 percent. While the NASI showed minimal gains of 0.29 percent, the NSE 20 and NSE 25 Share indices lost 3.22 percent and 0.69 percent, respectively. Shareholders' wealth, as measured by market capitalization, showed marginal gains of 0.29 percent, on account of the slight gains in share prices during the week ending May 17, 2018 (Table 3).

Bond Market

Turnover in the local bond market declined by 10.98 percent in the week ending May 17, 2018. This may be attributed to the opening of the Fifteen Year Fixed Coupon Treasury Bond Issue No. FXD 1/2018/15, which is on sale from May 9 to 22, 2018.

In the international bond market, there were marginal changes in the yields on Kenya's Eurobonds. The yields on Kenya's 5-year and 30year Eurobonds rose marginally, while those on the 10-year Eurobonds (2024 and 2028) decreased slightly during the week

Government Securities

The primary market for government securities maintained good performance during the week ending May 18, 2018. The bids for Treasury bills increased during the week registering a subscription of 183.10 percent. The subscriptions have been increasing for four straight weeks from 106.12 percent on April 26, 2018 to 136.83 percent in the subsequent week and 165.65 percent on May 10,2018 . The auction of May 17, 2018 received bids totaling KSh 43.94 billion against an advertised amount of KSh 24.0 billion. The most preferred instrument in the market remained the 364 day Treasury bill which recorded a subscription of 327.78 percent. Furthermore, the interest rates on the three Treasury bills edged downwards during the May 17, 2018 auction.
